

Argumentative Essay Outline Template

**For more outline templates see p. 527 of textbook

- I. Broad theme for your catchy hook (avoid “Have you ever . . .”)
  - A. Look at your list for 7 Attention Grabbers
  - B. Identify “general” aspects of the topic; do NOT give specifics
  - C. Identify the various positions (for and against)

THESIS STATEMENT: the only complete sentence in your outline (not a question); this should focus your argument and clearly present your position on the topic
- II. Background about the issue
  - A. What it is
  - B. Why it is a controversial topic
- III. State the position opposite of yours (clear topic sentence – not catchy hook or question)
  - A. 1st Reason people feel this way
    - 1. Specific evidence or example or statistic
    - 2. Explain why this may be true BUT . . .
  - B. 2nd reason people feel this way
    - 1. Specific evidence or example or statistic
    - 2. Explain why this may be true BUT . . .
  - C. Analysis of the contrary position – transitions to your position
- IV. State your position as fact (needs clear topic sentence – not a catchy hook or question)
  - A. 1st Reason people feel this way
    - 1. Specific evidence or example or statistic
    - 2. Explain why this is true
  - B. 2nd reason people feel this way
    - 1. Specific evidence or example or statistic
    - 2. Explain why this is true
- **Repeat III and IV as necessary****
- V. Your Synthesizing Statement/Conclusion (do not include details in your conclusion)
  - A. Synthesize specific causes of controversy, overview of topic (highlight)
  - B. Transition from specific (thesis) to “general”
  - C. Consider – concluding with your opinion or a “call to action”